The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

Correspondence was read from the following:

C.N.R. re the Community Progress Competition. Moved by Coun. Thompson that this Municipality be entered for the 1932 competition. Carried.

Canada Creosoting Co. re guard rails. Filed.

Re hospital accounts of indigent patients. Moved by Coun. Thompson that the action taken by the Reeve and the letters sent to the Minister of Municipal Affairs and the local Member be ratified by this Council. Carried.

The question of striking the mill rate for 1932 was discussed by the Council, and the estimates as prepared considered. Moved by Coun. Thompson that the mill rate for 1932 be 7 mills. Carried.

Moved by Coun. E. Johnson that the fee for Councillors attending meetings be reduced to $3.00, and that the salary of the Secretary be reduced by $100 for 1932. Carried.

Moved by Coun. Humble that the sum of $300 be paid for making the triennial assessment. Carried.

Several delegations interviewed the Council.

The first was from Crooked Lake, who presented a scheme to reduce the mill rate a further 2 mills. Several delegates spoke, but none of them showed the Council where the expenditures could be reduced by $7,200, the equivalent of 2 mills, which would prove satisfactory to all the ratepayers and at the same time keep the public works economically sound, the scheme was not thought feasible.

The second delegation was with regard to the construction and graveling of the road from Nashville to Gwynne. This matter was held over for further investigation by the Councilors concerned.

The third delegation presented a petition asking the Council to acquire a certain piece of land for the purpose of a municipal recreation ground. Moved by Coun. E. Johnson that the petition be tabled, that the question of suitability of the location and other details be investigated and then discussed at a future meeting. Carried.

Mr. McWhinnie of the Richardson Road Machinery Co. interviewed the Council re machinery repairs and culverts.

Mayor Somers and Ald. Torsen interviewed the Council re the maintenance of the roads reverting to the city and district through the relocation of the highway. The Council agreed to maintain the Stettler highway as far as the Court House, the City to pay their share of the cost. The City agree to negotiate with the Dept. of Public Works with a view to having them maintain the other gravel roads and submit costs to this Council.

Mr. Sorensen interviewed the Council re supplying concrete culverts. Moved by Coun. E. Johnson that an order be placed with Mr. Sorensen for a supply of these culverts up to $300, sizes to be stated by the Councilors requiring them. Carried.

Moved by Coun. Lundeen that the road diversion commencing at the S.E. corner of N.E. 29-46-23-4 and continuing in a N.W. direction to the old Camrose trail on the same quarter be cancelled as it is no longer required. Carried.

After the bills and paychecks were passed for payment the meeting adjourned.

Toronto, March 31.—The Ontario Press Limited, publishers of the Ontario Sentinel, was adjudged bankrupt in an order made at Osgoode Hall today by W. J. Reilly, registrar in bankruptcy. The Sterling Trust Corporation was appointed custodian of the estate on petition of Reliance Engravers, Limited.

FUR TAXES SHARPLY BOOSTED UNDER NEW ALBERTA GAME ACT

Edmonton, April 2.—Higher taxes on furs will be provided when regulations under the new Game Act are drafted, according to statements by Hon. George Hoadley, minister of agriculture, when the bill was discussed in committee of the whole on Friday evening.

While no changes would be made in some cases, the minister said that the scale of taxation for the most part would be revised upward. Speaking of the increased taxes, the minister said that on wolverine the average price of which was $18, the tax would be raised from 50 cents to $2. It was proposed to increase the tax on lynx sold on the average, from $25, from a charge of 25 cents to $2.25. A tax of $3 would be imposed upon fisher, as compared with $1.50 now.

The average price for fisher was $60. No change would be made in the taxes imposed on marten and timber wolf now standing at $1 and 25 cents respectively.

DEBATING LEAGUE

On Wednesday evening, March 30th, a large crowd gathered in Coal Lake hall to hear Haultain debate the home team on the subject "Resolved that the telephone system of Alberta should be put upon a sound basis by the imposition of a frontage tax upon all and adjacent to rural lines. After an interesting debate, the visitors who upheld the affirmative, received the unanimous verdict of the judges.

Those taking part were:

Haultain—L. Pritchard; A. Fraser, W. Mountain.

Coal Lake—N. Exum; O. McKee, H. Gillekin.

Judges—Mrs. Dowdell, Mrs. Ross, W. Davidson.

This was the last regular debate of the season, and the standing of the locals is now as follows:

Lone Ridge 8; Coal Lake 7; Malmoe 7; Haultain 7; Gwynne 6; Verdun 5; Hillside 5; Nashville 3.

According to the rules of the league a championship debate must be held at the close of the season between the two teams having the highest score. As there are three teams tied for second place, an elimination contest seemed inevitable. However, owing to the lateness of the season, Malmoe and Coal Lake have decided to withdraw from the contest, leaving Haultain to battle with Lone Ridge for the championship.

Arrangements have now been completed, and the championship debate will be held in the U.F.A. hall, Wetaskiwin, on Wednesday, April 13th at 8:30 p.m. The subject will be "Resolved that collective farming offers greater advantages than individual farming." Haultain will support the affirmative.

The public is heartily invited to attend and hear this very interesting subject discussed by the leading debaters of the league. Admission free, collection for expenses will be taken.

Approximately 830,000 bushels of seed oats will have been shipped to Saskatchewan from the Peace River country by the end of the week, a quantity practically completing the requirements for that province, according to a statement by G. M. Stewart, district inspector of the Dominion seed branch, Thursday.

RECOMMENDED FOR 1933

Edmonton April 5.—Taking of a plebiscite on abolition of beer parlors in this province will be recommended by the government next year, providing general conditions improve. WETASKIWIN PLAYERS TO APPEAR AT THE AUDIEN

The people of Wetaskiwin and district have always been consistent patrons of local talent theatrical productions, and it is pleasing to announce that the Wetaskiwin Players, directed by B. W. Bellamy, whose most recent successes were "Turn to the Right" and "The Cat and the Canary," will hold down the boards at the Audien Theatre on Wednesday, April 27th, presenting a three-act comedy "Sweetwater Trail," under the auspices of the Wetaskiwin Sports Association. This is a story of the Canadian Northwest written by Larry E. Johnson, author of "Her Step Husband," which made such a big hit here. While sentimentality and mystery are naturally an essential ingredient, the comedy is spontaneous and continuous throughout.

Miss Lawrence represented the Wetaskiwin branch of the A.T.A. at the Teachers' Convention held in Calgary last week.

Miss Laurette Vickers returned last week from visiting friends in Calgary and other places in the southern part of the province.

The many friends of Geo. F. Root, who was seriously ill a short time ago, were delighted to see him in town on Tuesday.

The weather during the past few days has been springlike. The soil is drying rapidly, and many farmers will be on the land next week.

Misses Elsie and Margaret Finch returned a few days ago, after spending part of the Easter vacation with relatives in the Ponoka district.

J. Williams, who has been employed in the power house at Wainwright for some time returned home last week, receiving a temporary lay-off.

The name of H. W. Wright of Wetaskiwin, appeared among the winners at the Edmonton Spring Stock Show last week, having been awarded first prize for one of his exhibits.

Supreme Court will be held here next week, with His Honor Mr. Justice Ewing presiding. We understand the cases on the docket are from outside the Wetaskiwin district.

One of the centres of attraction in Wetaskiwin on Tuesday was the demonstration of the new Ford V 8, when scores of interested parties called at Sims-Brown garage and inspected the new car.

2,000 LIVE IN TENT CITY

WHEN ITALIAN TOWN SINKS

Naples, April 2.—Two thousand men, women and children, whose homes caved in as the town of Santa Stefano sank from a hill top to oblivion in an underground cavern, lived in a tent city today.

They hurriedly left their sinking homes, took all the household goods and other possessions they could carry, and migrated into the tent town set up by troops dispatched to the region.

Although the first indications of the fate of the town came suddenly with the unexpected cracking of numerous houses, the inhabitants were evacuated in safety.

It was believed that infiltration of water into the porous ground in which Santa Stefano was built, caused the formation of a huge cavern directly beneath the town. There appeared little hope that much of the town would be left standing.

Following a brief presentation by Hon. H. H. Stevens, minister of trade and commerce, the royal commission adopted a resolution moved by E. E. Percy (Cons.) Qu'Appelle, that "any change in the system of grading grain wheat should not become effective during the present crop year."

At a recent Red Deer horse sale, the highest price for team was $500 with a few single horses bringing $100 each. The average price for the seventy-two horses entered was $69.

HALF BILLION BUS. CROP IN U.S. PREDICTED

Chicago, April 2.—Ugly crop reports from big sections of Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado and the Texas Panhandle are acting now as the wheat market backbone.

Leading specialists say it will take two or three weeks yet if growing weather to determine the actual condition of domestic winter wheat. With an average abandonment of acreage, however, and with an average yield an acre, the outlook is for a harvest of about 500,000,000 bushels of winter wheat in this country, nearly 300,000,000 bushels less than last season.

Moisture through the North American spring wheat belt is the best in several years, and even in the dry sections of the Canadian northwest it is sufficient to insure a good beginning for the new crop. In Canada, though, there will apparently have to be seasonal rains, especially during June, if the yield is to come anywhere near being normal.

What is a book? A series of little printed signs—essentially only that. It is for the reader to supply himself the forms and colors and sentiments to which these signs correspond. It will depend on him whether these signs correspond. It will depend on him whether the book be dull or brilliant, hot with passion or cold as ice. Or, he may prefer to put it otherwise, each word in a book is a magic figure that sets a fibre of our brain vibrating like a harpstring and so evokes a note from the sounding-board of our soul.—Anatole France.

"Chances" by T. Hamilton Gibbs; is a book to suit all tastes. It is the story of two English boys, Tom and Jack Inglewood who, at the age of fifteen and thirteen are sent to a French school. The author passes over their life in Oxford and Germany. When, as young men, he breaks out, and they both fall in love with the same girl, the complications are advanced, the development will hold the reader's engrossed interest to the very end.

"The Four Armourers" by Frances Beeding. Colneel Granby, along with Julia Hazelrig and John Baxter, matches his ingenuity against an unscrupulous armament company to procure a secret chemical formula in the possession of a widow, Granby and Baxter start the trouble by packing the body of a spy who has unwittingly taken poison into the trunk belonging to one of the armoured cars in order to escape conflict with the authorities. The armourers then have their innings, and thereafter the pace is fast and furious.

This week's illustrated magazines give some interesting pictures of two great sporting events which took place in England recently, namely, the Oxford and Cambridge boat race, and the Grand National horse race. The Canadian Geographical magazine for April is one of the best yet issued from Ottawa.

644 BULLS, WITH TOTAL VALUE OF $82,210 ARE DISPOSED OF Selling of purebred bulls of beef breeds was concluded at the Exhibition Grounds at a late hour Friday afternoon. A survey of the three-day sale, having in mind present conditions in the agricultural market, reveals a satisfactory situation.

In all 644 animals were dealt with. The total value of these was $82,210, and the average per head $127.65. At the same sale last year 750 head were sold for $95,410, an average of $127.25.

The Hereford breed again led in volume of sales and also in average price, 227 passing through the ring to bring $147. Short horns were next, 230 of these returning an average of $113.33. The Aberdeen-Angus average was $100.10. The average of the previously given on account of a number of rejections again being offered and selling for low prices. The final tally gave 86 blacks an average of $93.38.

The peak price of the sale for an individual animal was recorded on Thursday for Donald Crossie, champion Shorthorn, sold by Oscar Moorehouse, Carseland, to Robert Taylor, Princeton, B. C., for $650. Second honors in this connection was obtained by a Hereford sold by Frank Collett to William Bennett, Lundbreck, for $540.

Offerings of Friday did not impress purchasers greatly and only moderate prices prevailed throughout the day. A number of animals did not draw a maiden bid and others took the gate at the $500 mark. Bidders were loath to consider anything lacking in quality and breeders learned anew the lesson that the Calgary Bull Sale is a most discriminating market. Fewer offerings of the kind open to criticism would have greatly improved the average; animals that came up to specifications found interest throughout the three days.

J. L. Waters, owner of Canada's largest purebred Shorthorn herd, located at Clive, received the highest price paid on Friday when his Homebred Hero, a roan two-year-old, brought $365 on sale to N. G. Smith. Another Walters bull sold for $300, and with 16 head Mr. Walters made the good average of $144.40.

Roy Ballhorn of Wetaskiwin, received the second highest average price for the eight animals he offered in his class.

P. A. Switzer, Lacombe, received $275 for one of his offerings and took an average of $175.31 for 16 head.—Albertan.

Two years ago a Shandro farmer needed three men and a tractor to put in 500 acres. Last year he did not use the tractor, and with the help of one hired man he put in 595 acres at one-third the cost.

Alberta Legislative Assembly

(Interesting news letter from our Correspondent in the Press
Gallery, Parliament Buildings.)

Edmonton, April 2.—This week has been more or less calm as compared with the hectic session of last week. But there has been plenty of the unusual, notwithstanding.

Although it has been another strenuous fighting week for the Liberals, both the Conservatives and the Independents have levelled their guns at the treasury benches, and it is whispered in parliamentary circles that there is a decided rift in the lute among the government back benches.

W. R. Howson, Liberal, Edmonton, dropped a bombshell in the house when the supply bill came up for second reading. The Provincial Treasurer had just moved the second reading of the bill, usually quite a formal proceeding, and there had been cries of "agreed" when Mr. Howson rose. Upon a thunderstruck house he poured forth a volley of words, the portents of which was that the entire estimates, which had been passed on Saturday, notwithstanding the fact that the Liberals had opposed every total, be referred back to the committee of supply. The object of Mr. Howson's motion was for the purpose of having them reduced to a point where it would render it unnecessary for any cut to be made in mother's allowances.

The amendment was ruled out of order after the Premier had taken objection to it. When the motion for second reading of the bill was moved the Liberals demanded a division. The vote was taken and the motion carried by 37 to 17. The Liberals and the Conservatives voted solidly against the government. Labor stood by the administration. None of the Independents were in the house.

Incidentally, in moving this amendment, Mr. Howson established three precedents. First, in moving the amendment at all; second, in asking that the estimates be referred back to a committee which had already been dissolved, and third, in moving his motion in the longest sentence ever recorded in the house, namely, 22 lines and some 220 words.

Last Saturday the estimates were finally disposed of, but not before a number of breezy passages had occurred between George H. Webster, Liberal leader, and members of the treasury benches. At one stage Mr. Webster declared: "I wish the provincial treasurer would be courteous enough to give me his attention when I am asking a question."

Mr. Webster declared that for years the government had been increasing the public debt without giving the public adequate information. The men who were responsible were the ones that shouted "agreed" when these votes came under discussion.

Still another battle royal was staged when Labor joined hands with the Liberal forces in attacking the eight per cent interest charge of the banks in respect of their twelve loans which had been guaranteed by the government.

J. J. Bowlen, Liberal, Calgary, thought the banks were taking advantage of the present situation. They were coming more and more to lean on the government. C. L. Gibbs, Labor, Edmonton, said: "Surely the banks have not the nerve to charge such an exorbitant rate of interest on government guaranteed loans." The Premier defended the attitude of the government, but Mr. Gibbs still contended it was an outrageous interest for the banks to charge.

Mr. Brownlee declared it would be a matter of adjustment with the banks. The government had no intention of paying eight per cent.

This brought Mr. Howson to his feet. He declared it was absurd for the Premier to say that no public announcement had been made of the guarantees. He said the minister of education had written to all the banks, telling them the government was prepared to guarantee these loans. Advertisements had appeared throughout the province, he declared, telling the farmers about them, and incidentally enlisting the premier.

Mr. Howson thought it was monstrous the banks should be allowed by the government to charge eight per cent on perfectly safe security. He claimed that the government had not looked after the interests of the farmers in this interest.

During the same debate, F. R. Falconer, Liberal, Athabasca, stressed the importance of carrying on urgently needed work in rural districts. Many farmers, he said, would not apply for district relief until they were actually starving, whereas they would apply if they were given the opportunity of earning some money.

A heavy attack was made on the present savings certificate policy of the government by F. C. Moyer, Independent, Drumheller, D. M. Duggan, Conservative, Edmonton, and W. R. Howson Liberal, Edmonton.

So strenuous became the remarks of the latter that they brought Hon. R. G. Reid to his feet with the request that Mr. Howson bring his remarks to the point of view, which he wished to put before the house. "Or are we to take that speakers wish the impression to go forth that the province is insolvent and cannot pay?" he demanded.

Cries of "oh, oh" and "no, no" came from the opposition benches. The minister declared that every word that had been spoken by the opposition was designed to give just that impression.

Mr. Moyer and Mr. Duggan had both contended that there ought to be a limitation put on the amount the government could borrow by means of these savings certificates. Mr. Moyer went a step further by declaring that the administration had been carrying on a "savings bank" illegally for years.

Mr. Howson's point of attack was that the government had borrowed $9,000,000 by this plan, invested some $5,500,000 in securities and the remainder in "frozen assets," so that the province was in the position of having money from the banks before it could repay these certificates which were payable on demand.

The income tax schedule provided bone of contention during the week. Liberal, Laborites, Conservatives and Independents all took the ground of exemption as being far too low. But Mr. Howson's attack on the retroactive nature of the measure brought out the most spirited discussion. He moved to strike out part of the bill which made the tax payable on last year's income, all income from the year 1931. The bill was defeated by a vote of 35 to 17, Labor supporting the government, with Liberals, Conservatives and Independents solidly opposed.

Mr. Howson met no success with his attempt to have the filling fee of $3 granted from 50 cents upwards. The bill to validate the settlement of the liability of the province in respect to the wheat pool guarantees and to validate the securities issued by the province in connection therewith brought another breeze. It came after the premier had announced the position of affairs and the Conservative leader had stated it was apparently the best settlement they could have hoped to obtain in view of all the circumstances.

Mr. Howson would not have this. He said the Conservative leader was looking at it from the point of view of the banks. He preferred to look at it from the point of view of the people. He strongly attacked the issuing of bonds payable in American funds with the present high rate of exchange. It was a Canadian debt, he said owed by Canadians and payable to Canadian banks. He could not see why the banks could not accept payment in Canadian currency at 100 cents on the dollar. He considered the government ought not to be congratulated on the settlement but should be censured in no uncertain terms. Mr. Brownlee declared that it was one of the cheapest bits of financing ever accomplished by the province.

An innocent looking resolution of W. H. Shield U.F.A. Stettler, is rumored to have caused a stir in government ranks. It merely urged the continuance of the five cent wheat bonus. But Gordon Foster, U.F.A., Hand Hills, moved an amendment asking for a bonus of $1 an acre for those farmers hailed or dried out last season.

This was carried by 35 to 22, the house divided on nonparty lines. During the week Hugh Allen, U. F. A. Grande Prairie succeeded in getting unanimous endorsement to his resolution urging investigation of the possibility of interesting the Dominion Government in setting up a fund to lead money to settlers on the security of their land instead of issuing direct relief.

The house has also discussed the possibility of setting up a department of mines and of industries. The resolution was moved by F. C. Moyer, Independent, Drumheller, and after receiving support from all sides of the house, the debate was adjourned by the Premier in order that the possibility of including an industries department in one of the other administrative departments might be fully canvassed.

Taken by and large the house has covered a lot of ground in the last few days although the government has been continually on the defensive. Mr. Webster and Mr. Howson have been in full fighting trim, while H. J. Montgomery, Liberal, Wetaskiwin, has been conducting a sort of guerilla warfare with quick fire questions. Much of the biting criticism of Messrs. Webster and Howson has received endorsement from the Conservative benches and from the Independent benches, and here and there the Laborites, too have taken a tilt with members of the cabinet.

AN ODE TO PREMIER BENNETT

(Echo of 1930)

I promise all things great and small,
East, west, north, south, to each and all.

Or perish in the attempt.
I promise proof to make it plain
That all old shibboleths are vain;
I promise my full strength shall bend,
All unemployment quick shall end,
Or perish in the attempt.

I promise that a seaway wide
At once be built to ocean tide;
I promise quickly and engage
To pensions pay for all old age;
I promise that without delay
I'll build Trans-Canada's way;
I promise that each mill and loom
And factory will forthwith resume—
Or perish in the attempt.

I promise that all ills endured
By farmers will at once be cured;
I promise too, when Overseas,
To pensions pay for all old age;
I promise that I'll make the grade
And blast a way for world-wide trade
Or perish in the attempt.

I promise that I'll show the cause
To pensions pay for all old age;
Or perish in the attempt.
I promise, but why specify?
Just mention what you want—and why.
For all you ask I will comply;
A Superman indeed am I,
Or perish in the attempt.

PROGNOSIS

Business has been ailing. In fact the illness seems to have been severe. Circulation was badly upset. Congestion set in. The symptoms were so numerous and affected so much of the patients' anatomy that diagnosis appeared hopeless. Every self styled business doctor seized upon his pet symptom and made it the basis of his verdict.

The more experts the more confusion. Meanwhile business languished. It seemed for a while to lose interest in its own case. Patients reach that state at times.

ruary—Roger Babson, statistician extraordinary, the most conservative of business diagnosticians, says so.

Doctor Babson is of a good school. He saw and predicted the approach of trouble way back in '29, when the world believed that Santa Claus had come to stay and every day meant just another rise in the market.

No one paid much attention to Babson and his conferees at that time. He plotted his curves, kept his experts busy with their fingers on the big and little arterial pulse of business and told what he knew.

Time — a few months — proved him right. Time again — a few weeks, proves him right when he says that the crisis is over. Business is recovering. The high temperature has brought on some degree of weakness but its effect upon the patient's general condition has been salutary. If you doubt that, just refer to it again in the fall.

Now is the period of convalescence, when common sense applied to liberal doses is the only treatment needed.

RURAL PLAY UPSET
WHEN FAITHFUL DOG

Creston, B.C., Mar. 31.—Patrons of an amateur dramatic club presentation of the rural comedy "Deacon Dubbs," at the community hall at Canyon City, 7 miles east of here, on Friday night, were treated to a real thrill just at curtain time at the close of the second act.

Ernest Langston, cast in the role of villain, was called upon to choke the heroine, Miss Frances Knott, with the hero, L. W. Stephens, at the right moment due to arrive on the scene to make the regulation rescue. Stephens was spared this effort, as just about the time Langston began the throttling episode the Knott family collie dog, which had gained admission with some late comers, made a dash from the rear of the stage, caused an immediate loosening of the villain's grip.

The persuasion of Miss Knott and other members of the family were needed to prevent a real tragedy in which the villain would have fared far more seriously than the playwright had planned.

Making a Lawn

Seeding not only gives us the most inexpensive lawn but is also decidedly the most satisfactory in the long run. Moreover, where the proper method is followed, it is very little slower than other ways, it being possible to produce a serviceable piece of grass in eight weeks. The soil should be thoroughly dug, and of course, any bits of mortar, bricks and stones removed. Level all the low spots by raking and rolling. It is well to allow the place to lie idle for a week or ten days. This will encourage any weed seeds in the soil to germinate and also settling, which is almost sure to occur where there was much filling in. Rake again thoroughly and then on a day when there is no wind sow seed both lengthwise and across to insure even distribution, at the rate of one pound for every two hundred square feet. If a permanent lawn is desired, only the very best quality of grass seed should be considered, as this alone contains the proper proportion of quick growing grasses which act as a nurse crop for the permanent kinds that must also be included. Cover the seed very lightly by raking one way only, and then, if it is possible, go over the whole thing with a roller. If no implement of this kind is available, a pounder will make a fair substitute. Regular mowing should start when the grass is about two inches high. This clipping will destroy most of the weeds which may have survived the treatment so far, but if weeds continue and the grass does not look healthy, it is a sure sign that fertilizer is needed. Half-starved grass cannot fight weeds.

Vegetable Selections

There are a few general points to be considered in making our vegetable selections, no matter what sort of a garden we have. If space is limited, we should concentrate on those things which give us the greatest yield for the ground occupied, and also on certain things like corn and peas which, although they take up a great deal of room, cannot be purchased of anything like the same quality as when grown right at our door. In the "most for the money" class there will be beans, beets, carrots, Swiss chard, spinach, onions, lettuce, radish and parsnips. These all occupy very little space, and a row even only twelve feet long will give some returns, for the average family. Then, too, we may desire to have something that we can store away for the winter that will continue to cut our living costs long after the garden has been buried in snow. In this category we will have carrots, beets, parsnips, onions, squash, celery, cabbage, and a host of other things that will keep in the cellar from six weeks to six months. If we live at some distance from a regular market, then we should also try to develop early earliness in certain things like lettuce, radish, and onions. With a hotbed, these things can almost be grown the year round, and of course, tomatoes, cabbages, peppers, celery, and other tender, long-seasoned vegetables may be given an early start, and thus grown in districts where it will be impossible to sow them directly outside with any chance of success.

Garden Peas

Like the sweet pea, the garden kind should be sown early for best results. Late frosts and snow will not hurt them. Commercial growers for the canning factories realize this and plant along with their spring grain, just as early in the spring as the ground can be worked. On account of the necessity of this early start, it is well to choose long season or early, medium and late types, rather than sowing at weekly intervals, though, of course, it is quite all right to make two main plantings. In recent years the commercial growers have been getting away from the short-vined peas of the American Wonder sort, and are preferring the taller sorts, like the Laxton, which produce an abundance of large pods of big, very sweet peas. This is the kind that commands the top price among canned peas. Garden peas require rich soil, well cultivated both before and after planting. Sow about five inches apart in the row, and make rows from two to three feet apart, depending on which kind of cultivator is used. It is important to keep the soil well worked during early growth. While not absolutely necessary, better results will be obtained in the average garden where the taller growing types of peas are given some support. Usually brush is used for this purpose. Vines and roots should be dug into the soil after the crop is off, as they are rich in fertilizer. There is absolutely no comparison between the flavor of freshly-picked peas out of the garden at the door, and those picked over twelve hours previous to cooking.

FARMERS PAYING MORE CASH; OUTLOOK IMPROVES

Business is improving in farm implement lines and a larger percentage than usual of cash is being offered by farmers, a survey shows. Since farm machinery lines were one of the worst to feel the pinch of the depression, it might be that implement concerns may be the first to sense a gradual improvement in conditions.

There has been a much bigger percentage of cash business than in previous years, particularly in the north half of the province, said A. W. Phillips, manager of Oliver Limited.

"At least 60 per cent of the business of 1932 is cash and in Edmonton district better than that. There is quite a tendency toward horse implements. Not only has there been a better class of buyers, but a better volume on light stuff," said Mr. Phillips.

While business is far below normal years, 1932 has brought more business than 1931, said A. V. Porter, manager of the International Harvester Company Limited.

"Collections have also shown a satisfactory improvement since the first of the year, and the percentage of cash offered on goods wanted is larger, and one of the best indications."

"Early trade has been on light goods but there has been some inquiry for power lines too. There are indications of one of the biggest demands in some time and the farmers who have cash are going to buy," said Mr. Porter.

"That business was picking up and a good season of the year," was the general statement of J. A. Hills, manager of Massey-Harris company limited.

"Cash takings, both from sales and collections are up," was the way he summed up the situation.

Another manager, who declined to allow use of his name, remarked on the fact that the country roads were blocked and contracts had not been made with their agents by the farmers.

Another pointed out the unusually large sale of horses this year as indication of horse implements and harness.—Edmonton Journal.

DON'T—HE'S DOING HIS BEST

I think the price of cream's a crime. I have a fit most every time I take a load of cans to town and call the creamery manager down. "Doggone," I say, "You're doing wretched. I'd like your plundering neck to stretch, and throw you in your butter churn, in which a jet of steam I'd turn, and pasteurize you properly, so you'd be just a memory."

The hours I spend with my milk cows, combing their hair and watching them browse on the stubble that shows thru the blanket of snow, is just so much lost time, I trow. For when I think of the size of the check, I get such an awful pain in the neck, I believe I'll hole-up in my barn, and tell the sented police: "Got darn! Come out you guys and me transfer to Oliver or Pon-o-ker."

The creamery manager says "Now see, why do you have to pick on me? I'm just a poor hard-working guy doing his level best to try and give you farmers what you want, tho' that's a thing I simply can't. SCHOOLS SHOULD PRODUCE LEADERS

Canadian schools must become vital social and economic instruments if, rehabilitation of the Dominion's economic structure is to be effected, said Dr. W. W. Swanson, president of the A.E.A. convention. The schools must provide students with a grasp of actual facts and equip them for leadership in a changed and changing system of life.

Need was not for reconstruction so much as for creation, which would start with education. New economic and social conditions pertained and there must be a new concept of achievement. The predominant question was security and opportunity for the people. The new "socialism" was neither political cal nor theoretical. It had come mainly from the changed outlook of the "new poor." Party lines were disappearing and in their place the cleavage was between those who believed in orderly evolution and those who advocated revolution.

For this reason formalism in school work had to disappear. Leadership was expected from the schools in the new field of popular economics. Capitalism must take the risks to set up a new order. It could make a vital contribution for restoration of economic stability. A great indictment of democracy was that its governments spend half their time debating dead and desiccated issues.—Herald.

CAIRN TO MARK RELIEF OF EDMONTON 47 YEARS AGO

Some time during the present year it is the hope of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada to erect in Edmonton a cairn commemorating the relief of Edmonton 47 years ago by Major-General Strange and his little column of 500 men with one gun. It was probably the first military event in Alberta's history and certainly the only army the western province has ever had. In 1885 during the Riel rebellion Fort Edmonton was menaced by the rebel forces and the lives and property of settlers endangered.

Judge P. W. Howay, western representative of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board, has chosen the second terrace on the south side of the government administration building as the most suitable spot to erect the cairn. Overlooking the river and close to the site of Old Fort Edmonton as well as in the centre of the government's beautiful park, this site seems not only ideally lovely, but historically perfect.

Only one gun—an antiquated model even at the time of the rebellion 47 years ago—accompanied the little army of volunteers drawn from the settlers of Alberta on their courageous march. Today it stands outside the old-timer's cabin at the exhibition grounds. Col. Jamieson suggests that when the cairn finally is erected this old gun be placed beside it. Only one other gun of similar age and make exists today in the west to his knowledge.

An effort is being made by the interested organizations to secure the names and addresses of all veterans of this volunteer army living in this or neighboring provinces. Whether the veteran was actually one of the militia troops or a civilian teamster, dispatch rider or scout, he played an important part in Alberta's history and his name should appear in historical records. All such veterans are requested to notify Col. Jamieson or Mr. Edmonds.—Edmonton Journal.

There's the difference—there's where Gutta Percha Tires give you EXTRA VALUE.

In ordinary tires the battering shocks of the road are pounding away on the cord fabric until it eventually breaks down. A NEW START

I will start anew this morning with a higher, fairer creed;

I will cease to stand complaining of my neighbor's greed;

I will cease to sit repining while my neighbor's call is clear;

I will waste no moment whining, and my heart shall know no fear;

I will look sometimes about me for the things that merit praise;

I will search for hidden beauties that elude the grumbler's gaze;

I will try to find contentment in the paths that I must tread;

I will cease to have resentment when another moves ahead.

I will not be swayed by envy when my rival's strength is shown;

I will not deny his merit; but I'll strive to prove my own;

I will try to see the beauty spread before me, rain or shine;

I will cease to preach my duty, and be more concerned with mine.

HIS GOOD MEAL

A nice old man entered the village inn. He chatted with the innkeeper for a few moments and then said:

"By the way, a poor fellow came to me yesterday morning and said he was starving. I sent him up to you and told him to have a good meal at my expense. Did he come?"

"Yes, that's right, sir," said the innkeeper.

"How much do I owe you then?" asked the benevolent one.

"Four-and-six in all, sir."

"Four-and-six? He must have had a tidy-sized meal for that. What did he have?"

"Five pints of beer and a packet of cigarettes."

FORAGE CROPS AND WEED CONTROL

(Experimental Farms Note)

The most economical method of handling the weed problem is to follow a system of farming which includes forage crops which will control weeds. Most of the different hay and fodder crops are effective in this respect.

Nearly all hay crops are either biennial or perennials, in that the roots of the plants live over winter and for one or more years in the soil. There are very few weeds which can compete with such plants when they become established and completely cover the ground. Further than this all hay crops, whether grasses or legumes, are harvested too early to allow weeds which develop along with the crop to ripen seeds. A good meadow left in sod for a few years would completely eradicate most of our annual weeds were it not for the fact that some of them, such as mustard, stinkweed, etc., have seeds which will lie in the ground for years and still germinate when brought to the surface. A good sod will control but will not eradicate such weeds.

Sod is effective in retarding the spread of perennial weeds, such as quack-grass, thistles, etc., which increase by their root systems taking up more land. In this respect, sod is much more effective than cultivation which, if not thorough, tends to increase, rather than control or eradicate these weeds.

Intertilled crops have not been used extensively for forage crop production in Western Canada. In many sections they are not properly taken care of when grown and thus tend to increase rather than eradicate weeds.

FARMERS MAKE THEIR OWN MONEY

"If the banks won't lend you any money, make your own money," farmer co-operators at Leroy, Saskatchewan, say. Last summer they had a cheese factory which had run several years ago, but closed down when the price of wheat was high and farmers stopped milking cows. They wanted to reopen and buy milk to make cheese, but cheese is a commodity that is not immediately ready for sale. It must mature for several weeks.

Unable to borrow money from the banks on the security of their cheese, they printed out coupons, paying 50 cents per 100 pounds of milk, with promise of redemption when the cheese was sold. As the cheese was sold these coupons were redeemed and these farmer-financiers were able to pay themselves an interim dividend of 30 cents and a final payment of 17.5 cents per hundred that the farmers got for their milk. All of the coupons were redeemed within two weeks of the time the last cheese was sold.

A Fellow Got the Idea that He Could Save Money on his Horse Feed

So he said to himself, said he: "Now I'll just take one oat at a time away from that horse. He'll certainly never miss one little oat, and by taking one little oat at a time, he will eventually learn to live on nothing."

In due season, as the oats disappeared one by one, the horse grew thinner and finally died.

A car from which the "oats" of care are slowly taken away will just as surely become a thin horse. When a small supply part breaks or the motor develops a periodical stutter take heed—have it cared for. Attention in time saves a lot of grief.

WEEKLY STOCK MARKET REPORT

The following is a report of the Edmonton Stock Yards as supplied to The Times for the week ending April 5th:

Receipts: Cattle, 641; Calves, 135; Hogs, 4280; Sheep, 339.

Trading on the cattle market so far this week is inclined to be slow and draggy with buyers showing a somewhat indifferent attitude, especially on heavy cattle. Sales so far this week indicate that prices are holding barely steady with last week's close, and in spots a shade weaker. The following are the prices:

The general run of good fed calves quoted at $5.00 to $5.25. Really choice light would bring a little more. Mediums $4.00 to $4.75, good butcher steers $4.25 to $4.50; choice kinds up to $4.75; mediums $3.75 to $4.25, and common to fair $2.50 to $3.50. Good heavyweights heifers $4.25 to $4.50, mediums $3.75 to $4.00. Good heavies $3.25 to $3.50 and common to fair $2.50 to $3.25. Good to choice butcher cows $2.75 to $3.25; common to medium $2.00 to $2.50, canners and cutters $1.00 to $1.75, and bulls $1.50 to $2.25.

The stocker market is decidedly active under a keen demand, and salesmen are finding no difficulty in placing their offerings to good advantage. Prices are showing a strong tone, especially the better kinds of light weights. The general run of stocker steers and heifers selling at $3.25 to $4.00; choice bred kinds up to $4.25. Stocker cows $2.25 to $2.75, odd ones up to $3.00.

Calf market is decidedly a draggy affair, particularly on the plainer kinds. A further loss of 50c per hundred has been experienced during this week, the better grades of light calves selling at $4.50 to $5.00; fair to medium $3.75 to $4.25 and common to fair from $2.50 to $3.50. Farmers would be well advised to hold back their calves until the demand improves.

Hog market lower. Today, Tuesday, the long haul Peace Rivers sold at $3.60 for the hams fed and watered, with a few trucked in at $3.50 for the hams. Sides bringing a premium of 50c per hundred, and butchers discounted 50c per hundred. Note new cuts on the off grade hogs which came into effect on April 4th. Heavies discounted 75c per hundred; extra heavies 1c per lb.; No. 1 sows $2.50 flat; No. 2 sows $2.25 flat; roughs $2.00 flat, and steep $1.50 flat.

Considering the quality of the offerings of sheep and lambs, there is a fair market with lambs quoted generally at $4.50 to $5.25 with extra good light kinds up to $5.50; yearlings $3.50 to $4.00 and ewes $2.50 to $3.50.

POINTS ON THE ROARIN' GAME

(In the Morden Times)

In most towns and cities throughout Canada, and especially on the prairie provinces, curling is one of the popular pastimes, and with the charity bospital now in full swing in Morden, perhaps a little enlightenment on the game and the standing of individual members of a rink would be quite in order, so here goes:

The Game—Curling is very simple. All you have to do is to shoot a rock on the tee, then guard it so the other fellow cannot get at it. If he succeeds in knocking your rock out he's just plumb lucky. The skip who gets most counters wins the end—unless the opposing skip slips in a bagatelle shot. This should be a fail offence, but the good skip merely trots down the ice and whistles or smiles and then proceeds to build up another end.

The Lead—Is a person who throws the first pair of rocks; some one has to throw them to get the game started. All curlers have served apprenticeship as leads. He must see that all rocks are clean before the game and keep the other players in cigarettes. It really does not matter whether he gets any shots or not, for he will be blamed if the game is lost anyway.

The Second—He must do 75 per cent of the sweeping, and keep the third man in matches. He corrects the lead's mistakes by trying for and getting what the lead did not get. If he falls clean through the house—well, it doesn't matter, he's only the second. The only time the skip or third condensed to speak to the second is to ask him to sweep hard or pass his cigarettes or matches. That's a tough life, too.

The third—He, of course, should be skip, but he allows the other fellow to think he is boss. Assuming an air of superiority over leads and seconds, he holds the broom for the skip, and when he misses—oh, boy. Everybody knows he ought to be skipping the rink. The chief accomplishment of a third man is to be able to convey the impression that he knew damn well the skip played the wrong shot when he missed and if he makes it, he (the third) was the brainy boy who figured it out.

The Skip—The ideal curler, who gets up the rink but does none of the sweeping. He merely holds the broom and his temper, while the rest of the rink miss one and strain the wrong leg when he makes it.

He must take out four rocks in one shot and draw to the button to the next and generally make himself useful, knowing that if he wins he's a hero and if he loses—well, it's just too bad.

Then there is the fifth curler, the one who plays the game behind the back. He draws wicks in, throws a runner, and finally wins the game. Yep, curling is a great game, and may it long continue to encourage good sport and create warm friendships.

"The Mineral Position of the British Empire" is the suggestive title of the paper presented by Dr. Charles G. This same topic will provide much discussion at the forthcoming Imperial Economic Conference.

Belief that economic conditions were gradually improving and that the forthcoming Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa would be one of the big historical events in the development of the Dominion, was expressed by Senator Gideon Robertson, former Minister of Labor, who sailed on S.S. Canada's rapid change from an exporter of raw minerals to an exporter of finished goods and finished products will be well set forth at the annual meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy in Montreal on April 5, 6 and 7. A number of important papers will describe the new enterprises and industries that have effected this change.

Among deeds of heroism at sea, the rescue of the 27 men of the salvage ship Reindeer by the seamen of the S.S. Montclair recently will rank high. "A newspaper is in a more difficult position than any other business when there is a widespread business depression," remarks the Kingston Whig-Standard. "It can only curtail its costs by curtailing its service to the public, and the moment it starts to do that, it is inviting disaster. A newspaper is built upon service. It holds its place in the confidence and affection of the public because of the service which it gives. It must give this service whether it gives it at a profit or at a loss."

MEASLES

Measles is a disease which is highly communicable. In most cases, measles cause no obvious ill effects, and for that reason, it is apt to be regarded as being of no real importance, or as presenting no danger. Not a few cases of measles, however, are complicated by pneumonia and other infections with grave results leading to death in such a number of cases that measles must be given serious attention.

During the first year of life, measles is particularly dangerous, the percentage of cases dying being many times in excess of the death rate in the older age groups. Parents should understand very definitely that, under five years of age, and more especially under two years, measles is a much more serious menace to the life of their child than it is after the fifth year. The practical application of this knowledge should lead them to take additional precautions in order to protect their young child, and, in the event of his contracting the disease, to care for the disease as a serious one.

Cases of measles are often contracted early in life just because reasonable care is not taken. There are still parents who, not knowing how dangerous measles is, allow their young children to be exposed with the idea that they must have measles some time and, consequently, the sooner it is over, the better. They disregard entirely the much greater danger of measles contracted in early life as compared with its occurrence in later years.

It is possible to prevent or to render less severe, by means of serum treatment, an attack of measles if it is known that the child has been exposed. Serum is the fluid part of the blood. The person who has recovered from measles has in his blood certain substances which he produced to overcome the disease. If some of this individual's blood is taken and injected into the child who has been exposed to measles, the protection against the disease is transferred to the child.

The best or strongest serum is that which is taken from patients who have recently recovered from measles, and it is called measles convalescent serum. If such serum is not available then the blood of adults is used. Practically every adult has had measles, and so, in the blood of most adults, there will be some of the substances which protect against measles.

The serum must be given within five days of exposure. If measles is to be prevented, given on the fifth or sixth day it will likely modify the attack. The protection given is only temporary and does not last for more than a few weeks.

The great value of the serum treatment is to very young children, during the years when, as we have pointed out, measles is so frequently fatal. Also, the serum is used to advantage to protect the child who is not in good health and in whom an attack of measles would likely be most serious.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 124 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

COMFORT

... THROUGH CASTORIA'S GENTLE REGULATION

The best way to prevent colic, doctors say, is to avoid gas in stomach and bowels by keeping the entire intestinal tract open, free from waste. But remember this: a tiny baby's tender little organs cannot stand harsh treatment. They must be gently urged. This is just the time Castoria can help most. Castoria, you know, is made specially for babies and children. It is a pure vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless. It contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. For years it has helped mothers through trying times with colicky babies and children suffering with digestive upsets, colics and fever. Keep genuine Castoria on hand, with the name:

APRIL GLADNESS

Who need be sad when the world is young?

When the scent of spring on the breeze is flung;
When buds call sweetly through April's rain,
And birds are warbling their songs again;

When soft, south winds go carolling by,
And ambers sprinkle the evening sky;
When the jewelled rim of the slender moon,
Drifts off to the West, like a twilight tune;

When rivers romp in maddening play,
Nor heed the plea of the fields to stay;
When woods are tense with mystic hush,
Like an angels' whisper in dawn's first blush?

Oh, Heart of the World! Be glad, be gay,
For April is here, to be followed by May.

COST OF PRODUCING PORK
(Experimental Farms Note)

With a view to ascertaining the cost of producing pork, data were recorded and compiled at the Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, on 12 February and March farrowed litters entered in the Advanced Registry Policy for Purebred Swine in 1931. These litters, comprising 9 purebred Yorkshires, 2 purebred Berkshires and one purebred Tamworth, 108 pigs in all or an average of 9 pigs per litter, were fed to market weights during the spring and summer. The total cost of all feed from birth to finish including the cost of the feed fed to the brood sows during the suckling period was $47.05 and 20.54 pounds of pork was produced, which sold at an average price of 5 cents per pound, or for a total of $1,057.20. The net returns over cost of feed amounted to $402.52 or $2.73 per hog. In this calculation no allowance was made for the cost of the feed fed to the brood sows during the pregnancy period. This is a comparison only between cost of feed and value of pork produced. The cost of labor and interest on the investment is not included.

During the first 60 days following weaning the meal mixture fed consisted of 3 parts oat chop, 1 part barley chop, 1 part shorts, 3 part cent tankage and 1 part cent salt. At the end of the 60-day feeding period the shorts were eliminated from the ration and the proportion of the barley chop was gradually increased until towards the end of the feeding period they were getting 3 parts of barley to 1 of oats. In addition, all lots received buttermilk at the average rate of 7 pounds per head per day for an average feeding period of 128.7 days. The 9 Yorkshire litters were fed in the main pigsty, and the 2 Berkshire and 1 Tamworth litters each had access to one-third of an acre of an annual pasture seeded with 2 bushels of oats and 1 bushel of fall rye per acre.

Feeds were charged at the following prices: Ground oats, 25c per bushel; ground barley, 25c per bushel; shorts $15 per ton; tankage $40 per ton; salt $25 per ton, and buttermilk 1 cent per gallon. These were actual prices paid for feeds but are somewhat higher than present market prices.

With hogs selling at 4 cents per pound and value of feeds and supplements as above, the net returns over cost of feed but not including the feeds fed to the pregnant sows would amount to $290.71, or $2.69 per hog. With 3-cent hogs the net returns over cost of feed would amount to 75c cents per hog or 75c per head of the cost of production from birth to slaughter.

ARMAMENT REDUCTIONS

Within the last few days the estimates for the armed forces of Britain and of the United States have been placed before their respective parliamentary bodies. In the United Kingdom drastic cuts have been made. The total expenditure has been reduced by something like $21,000,000 of which roughly $15,000,000 is off the figures for the army. The air force has been cut only four per cent. These are substantial reductions and follow similar reductions made in recent years. The reductions are likely to be readily accepted by the people of Britain. Economies effected last year in all branches of government expenditure seem to have been turned to good use. At any rate whether it is by reason of such economies or for other reasons, Britain seems to have got its feet on the upward path and is quickly progressing towards a measure of prosperity. And that fact will make the expenditure cuts more acceptable to the British people than they would otherwise be.

In the United States the estimates for national defense call for an expenditure of $644,651,209 and the total expenditure on liquidating the cost of the last war and maintaining the army, navy and air force amounts to $2,834,240,051 or 71.88 per cent of the total budget. This figure includes $54,000,000 for war debt retirement; $1,052,785,264 for pensions and veterans' hospitals. These figures reveal just how costly war is, either in preparations or in paying for the last one—Saskatoon Star Phoenix.

WARREN ADVISES

REDUCING COSTS

Prof. G. F. Warren, of Cornell University, speaking to organized agriculture in Lincoln, Neb., said in part: "There are two ways of obtaining a satisfactory price, reduce production until prices rise, or reduce costs. Both ways are generally used in varying degrees. If a single product is out of line with the general level of prices reduced production is the major remedy. If the whole price structure falls, reduced costs to correspond with the reduced prices is the major remedy."

"Since this is a collapse of the price structure not a business cycle, and not a question of over-production the adjustments to make are:

1. Find ways of producing farm products with less hours of labor.

2. Find ways of reducing costs of distribution.

3. For certain products increase the quality to meet the new demands for quality from workers who have a high buying power.

"I am sorry that I cannot tell you that prosperity is around the corner, but unless monetary changes are made that restore the collapsed prices, prosperity is not in sight. Such changes may occur but cannot be counted on."

"DAT WILL BE HELL"

The newly appointed pastor of a negro church faced a packed audience when he rose to deliver his maiden sermon on the burning question, "Is there a hell?"

"Brethren," he said, "de Lord made de world round like a ball."

"Amen!" said the congregation.

"And de Lord made two axes for de world to go round on, and He put one axle at de North Pole and de other at de South Pole."

"Amen!" cried the congregation.

"And de Lord put a lot of oil and grease in de centre of de world to keep de axes well greased and oiled."

"Amen!" agreed his listeners.

"And then a lot of sinners dig wells in America, in Mexico, in Russia and in Persia, and steal de Lord's oil and grease. And some day dey will have all de Lord's oil and grease and dem axes is gonna git hot. And den, dat will be hell, brethren! dat will be hell!"

NOW SCIENCE TELLS
WHY BRAN IS SO
GOOD FOR HEALTHKellogg's ALL-BRAN Has
"Bulk" and Vitamin B;
Also Healthful Iron

By using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, millions of people have overcome common constipation, and the headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so frequently result.

New laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN supplies two things needed to overcome temporary and recurring constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

The "Bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently it clears the intestines of wastes.

Further experiments prove ALL-BRAN provides two as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Eat this delicious cereal and avoid pills and drugs. They cause artificial action, and often lead to harmful habits.

Try two tablespoofuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily—sufficient to overcome most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN has a delicious, nut-sweet flavor. Enjoy as cereal with milk or cream, or use in making fluffy bran muffins, breads, omelets, etc. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

PEOPLE'S CONVENTION

Just closed, a great convention in Wetaskiwin. Our workers are all young, and so a Young People's Convention is quite in order. The workers were nearly all present with about one hundred visitors from all over the province.

By the second day we were crowded out of our church and the Mission Friends kindly loaned us their splendid new church. The crowds kept increasing until the closing night, when this church was packed to its utmost capacity and some turned away.

From the opening service the presence and glory of the Lord overshadowed us all. It seemed like Heaven. The harmony and unity of the saints was most precious and wonderful.

The local assembly under Brother and Sister Wood spared no pains to provide food and to make it pleasant for the visitors; also the good folk from all around brought in food in abundance, until there was heaps of it left over, and we said "God bless you, Wetaskiwin, we didn't think you could do it."

This has stirred us all up to look forward with expectancy to our Summer Conference at Calgary, July 5th to 10th.

Yours in the Master's service, John McAllister, Supt.
